A REFLECTION

FROM FR. SURESH

Dear Brothers & Sisters in Jesus Christ.

We know that each Fall, a lot of young boys aspire to become football players. But only a few will find their way onto the high school or university teams. Every year a coach challenges the hopefuls, explaining the cost involved: "Your muscles will ache from calisthenics. We'll run you till you think you can run no more. We will drill you and drill you, then drill you again, every day, after school. There'll be no drugs, no alcohol. Only if you work hard will you make the team. If you don't, you won't." The personal, economic, and emotional cost of becoming a professional athlete or an Olympics Medalist is still higher. Young children spend hours a day practicing their skills and submitting themselves to rigorous programs of diet and exercise to become great gymnasts or dancers. Others accept the cost of dedicating years to study and hard work to become outstanding doctors or lawyers or scientists or writers.

In today's Gospel, Jesus challenges his would-be followers to calculate the cost in following him, because they will have to leave their families and possessions and accept the pain and suffering involved if they are to follow him as true disciples.

Every aspect of our life demands on some kind of sacrifice, so also it is the same with Christian life. We need to sacrifice something to become something.

I wholeheartedly request all of you to support the church whichever is possible for you. I know it costs a lot. It costs your time, your talents and your money. But without your giving nothing goes forward in the catholic church.

Every year we need to support the diocese for its capital campaign. The diocese has set us a goal and we need to meet our goal. From this week I will start announcing about the capital campaign of the diocese and give you updates about it. Please come forward to support it.

Yours in Christ.

Fr. Suresh Babu Bakka
